

BATTLEFIELDS

The fate of a Nation may be sealed in a few minutes in the course of a battle. But the reasons for victory or defeat are controversial. In this series we take historians and Military officers back on the field and capture viewers imagination with accurate reconstitutions to find out what lies behind the most compelling confrontations of the XXth century. Setting the historical context of these military operations, we come to understand what were the decisive factors and strategy for victory and who were the officers and soldiers to be remembered.
